Hope 25 is Coming

I have been reading a delightful book "The Surprising Rebirth of Belief in God" by Justin Brierley. It sounded so good I bought one for our Archbishop.

In reading it, I ran across this short bullet point guide to thinking about how we could or would be able to talk about the good news of Jesus, as we are planning to do with Hope 25. Here it is below:

Creation: In the beginning God created everything "good".

Fall: But things went badly wrong as people went their own way. Our rebellion put humans in conflict with God, each other, and the world around us.

Israel: Beginning with Abraham, God chose a particular people through whom to demonstrate his character and redemption plan.

Redemption: God's rescue project for his creation involved coming in person. Jesus, the promised saviour of Israel, lived the life that you and I failed to live, and in his death, he mysteriously bore the consequences of all our failures bringing salvation to the whole world.

welcome to attend

New Creation: Now each person is invited to step into a future that is defined by the hope of his resurrection and a new world to come.

I do hope this becomes helpful as a way for us to talk about what we might understand as what happened in our own lives, and then to be able to let others know about our own hope.
